Missionary Journal of Ralph Clark in the Eastern States

Nov. 4, 1953

I entered the mission home this Wednesday morning after coming from Farmington at 9:00 am. Met fellows and went to meetings for general instructions. At noon I met Douglas Knell and folks, went to do some [...] then grabbed a bite to eat. Brother Murdock gave us instructions about traveling then Elder Stevenson introduced the new missionary plan as used in the Great Lakes. Went out to dinner with Knells and Elder Gary Smith to Otto + Bens. The dinner was a $1.75 meal. Met for another meeting then talked with fellows before returning.

Nov. 5, 1953

We entered the temple at 7:00 a.m. after rising and eating. The session consisted of 57 women, 172 men, with 76 receiving their own endowments. We finished session at 1:00 pm then had dinner in temple. We did a bit of shopping then reported for group picture at 3:00 am. A temple grounds tour was then taken by all nissionaries of that session. Open period was spent shopping, conversing, and eating them a meeting to help us lead music presented by Bro. Michell. [...] and I went to see Jim Hansen, who is going to the U. of U. then returned home and retired.
